PROSPEROUS TRADE RETURNS.

There is more to be learned from Messrs. Gandolfi and Moss's import trade returns for the year 1879 than from any political paper published by the clubs or parties throughout the Republic; and when politicians in this country abandon the personal character of their struggle and betake to trade returns, Tejedoristas and Roquistas may bid adieu to their influence and dread the change which will emancipate the nation from the empirical fudge that passes under the name of Argentine politics.

The consumption of imported sugar, which might be home-grown, is a subject of infinitely greater importance to the future well-being of this country than the election of Tejedor or the triumph of Roca, since the impotence of politics to ruin the nation is most fully established. Whilst the clubs fight in Buenos Ayres for their different candidates, and the Tiro Nacional practises their Remingtons, the sugar-planters of the Interior increase their plantations, the canes of Tucuman raise their heads higher than Roca on his horse, or Tejedor in his Government House, and in the race between political ruin and staple production the latter is fast winning the day, and Gandolfi and Moss prove it; and here are their figures.

In the year 1879 our sugar imports from the great sugar marts of Europe, Brazil and Cuba showed the following diminution on the previous year—

	1878.	1879.
	Brls.	Brls
From Marseilles....	17,095	1,500
" Havre	16 631	10,460
" Holland.....	58,085	57,408
" Pernambuco..	54,082	34,566
	Boxes	Boxes
" Havannah....	4,357	380

If things in this Republic were as they ought to be, and sugar-planting, which in every country is a lucrative and able business, enjoyed precedence in the Plate of politics and club nonsense, we should be exporting sugar to-day and remitting up to the planters of Tucuman the proceeds of their consignments, instead of buying bills of exchange from Mr. Todd, the talented manager of the River Plate Bank, or borrowing money in the open market to supply the Provincial Treasury with funds wherewith to pay our Provincial Legislators their salaries Spite, however, of every check and of every political monstrosity, we give the politicians but a couple more years to hold their own against the sugar men, who know no candidate but their 'cane.'

As we glide down Messrs. Gandolfi and Moss's trade returns, we come upon items as suggestive as the sugar of the rising industry of the nation. In our travels in Santa Fe we saw the Mani Oil Factory at work, an infant industry, worked on a small capital, and by men who only wear a coat once a week. That little factory, humble though it be, reflects its power in these returns, since we find that the article 'aceite de España' shows a falling off of 2,238 cases on the previous year. Again, in the town of Santa Fe, we went through the magnificent baldosa or French tile factory; and our trade returns for last year show a falling-off in the import of tiles from Marseilles and Havre of about 2,000,000. Coffee is another article of home growth raising its head in this country, and the following figures show with what result—

	1878.	1879.
	Sacks	Sacks
Imports from Brazil..	21,102	15,723
Havana Caña—
1878.....	4,024	pipes
1879.....	2,984	"
Cognac—
1878.....	43,594	cases
1879.....	31,318	"
Fideos from Genoa—
1878.....	13,262	cases
1879.....	6,014	"
Holland Gin—
1878...	127,200	bottles
1879...	60,252	"
1878...	54,072	dmjns.
1879...	36,850	"
Kerosene—
1878....	122,416	cases
1879....	119,507	"
Tejas—
1878	2,526,546
1879	1,776,455

There is a lesson in these figures which will not escape the attention of the merchants of this market, or of Argentines who watch the steady growth of their country. We could have wished that the import returns for wine would have enabled us to draw equally pleasurable conclusions respecting the development of our wine trade in the Interior, but the returns before us show rather an increased importation on the previous year; and although the gigantic wine trade of Bordeaux with the River Plate of former years is immensely diminished, the falling off, we believe, is due more to the economy of the people than to the increased production of the country. The dearness of wines in Europe at present will prove the greatest boon to the River Plate. Within the last week the 'pulperos' of the country have added four copper reals per quart to the price of Bordeaux wine; this, taken in connection with the Provincial excise duties, will greatly tend to increase the consumption of Argentine wines; and let it be noted that the day we cease to import foreign sugars and foreign wines, Exchange may be marked at 50d. on London, and no Presidential election in this country, no matter how favorable, can rival in importance a rate of Exchange so prosperous.

La France's Mails.

Gibraltar, Dec. 16th.

The Bombay Gazette tells a story of a hand-to-hand fight in this Afghan war which certainly deserves a word of notice. During the Khelat-i-Ghilzai advance Colonel Kennedy's force distinguished itself greatly by the pluck, energy, and skill with which they entrapped some two hundred Afghan horsemen into a fight in the open. Twenty fanatics, however, took refuge upon a precipitous hillock. These desperadoes, who wished nothing better than to be attacked, were assailed by Captain Sartorius, eight men of the 59th Foot, and a Belochee volunteer. In the struggle which followed after they clambered up, the whole twenty Chazis were accounted for, our side losing one killed and several, including Captain Sartorius, wounded with tulwar slashes. When the circumstances are taken into account, this was perhaps as bold a bit of hand-to-hand fighting as has occurred of late years.

The weather is milder (to-day the 10th), and the snow which has been lying on the ground for some days in the more exposed districts in and around London is disappearing. Steamboat traffic above London Bridge has been partially resumed. There is still a large quantity of drift ice in the river, but it is broken and rotten and not dangerous. Nearly all the pack ice near the piers and bridges has disappeared. There was less skating in the parks yesterday than on Sunday and Monday; and in some places the ice was not in very good condition. The whole of the Serpentine was thrown open to the public for the first time this season; but the number who went on it was not large. The navigation of the Thames was greatly impeded by the masses of floating ice that came down with the ebb tides. From most parts of the country the reports state that the partial thaw on the 8th has been followed by a renewal of the frost; but in Scotland a thaw has set in, and showers of rain have, it is stated, assisted greatly in removing the masses of snow that had accumulated.

We are sorry to hear that the Dutch steamer Pallas, bound from Holland to this port and the Mediterranean, has been lost, including the crew, during the late stormy weather in the Bay of Biscay.

The following telegram was received yesterday evening, dated London, 15, 3·35 p.m.:—'Calcutta, December 14.—A despatch from General Roberts announces continuous fighting, enemy advancing in great force. General Roberts concentrating at Sherpur cantonment, abandoning heights above City. Generals Gough and Arbuthnot ordered up from Gundamak and Jellalabad, where reinforcements have been sent to replace them.'

A New York telegram of the 8th says:—Advices from Aspinwall (Isthmus of Panama), dated Nov. 29, report that a northerly gale raged on the coast from the 20th to the 25th ult., causing much damage to shipping. The French bark Georgine, the Norwegian bark Albatross and two American brigs were wrecked, and the wharves at Aspinwall damaged. The steamers lying off the town escaped by putting to sea. The river Chagres had also overflowed, the inundations doing great injury to property. The Panama Railway was in some parts under water, and communication was consequently interrupted.

Mr. Justice Fitzgerald, in the Dublin Queen's Bench on the 9th inst., made an order, on the certificate of the Attorney-General, for a writ of certiorari transferring the proceedings against Thomas Brennan, on a charge of using seditious language, from the Connaught winter assizes to the Queen's Bench Dublin.

Rear-Admiral Arthur W. A. Hood C.B., was on the 9th appointed the senior officer in command of the Channel Squadron, vice Lord John Hay, whose period of service has expired.

A telegram received in Vienna on the 8th inst., from Cetinje states that the fighting between the Montenegrins and Albanians at Velika, on the Lim, in which the former ultimately gained the victory, was of a most sanguinary description. A thousand Albanians fell in the engagement, and all the waggons which could be obtained from Plava have been employed for two days in removing the dead. The losses of the Montenegrins were also considerable.

The Novoye Vremya, of St. Petersburg, on the 9th inst., announces that the Governor-General of St. Petersburg has given orders that a red lamp shall be placed outside each house at night, bearing the number of the house. Thirteen members of the self-mutilating sect—peasants aged from 16 to 50—have been deported to the remote east of Siberia.

Fifteen Spanish Generals, comprising several belonging to the artillery and engineers, have, according to a Madrid telegram of the 10th, resigned their commands, and it is believed that their resignations will be accepted.

France, the Paris correspondent of the Daily Telegraph telegraphed on the night of the 10th, was, at that moment, covered with a canopy of snow. Railway communication was still difficult, many of the lines were blocked up, on others locomotion was comparatively slow, and, to make matters worse, another snowfall had begun.

Mr. Gladstone returned from Scotland to Hawarden on the 8th, and made six speeches in the course of his journey—at Carlisle, Oxenholme, Preston, Wigan, Warrington, and Chester. At Preston and Wigan he spoke at some length. At the former place he urged the electors not to continue to support the Government by re-electing their present members, to whom, although he respected them personally, he objected on account of their support of a disastrous policy, injurious alike to this empire and the world. At Wigan Mr. Gladstone spoke for twenty minutes in the open air. He condemned Lord Salisbury's justification of the annexation of Cyprus by saying that we had acted similarly in the case of Malta and Gibraltar, as being more like the statement of a political bandit than a British statesman. At Warrington, he repeated his declaration that the Government dare not dissolve. He was received at Chester by a great crowd, and a torchlight procession and a band of music escorted him for some distance on the road to Hawarden.

BUENOS AYREAN CROPS.

We are much indebted to our evening colleague the Nacional for the following official table of the wheat and maize crop of this province. It is the first time that ever such statistics have been prepared, and we would remind our colleague that San Isidro, one of our best wheat districts is omitted.

As the valuation put on the crop is so very low, we think that our cereal crop for the province of B. Aires will represent a value of say 100 millions currency. The statistics have been obtained through the intervention of the Provincial Bank, and it is remarked that in whatever district the Bank has a branch, there the wheat returns show improvement.

GENERAL ROCA IN ROSARIO.

(Our own Correspondent.)

January 5th, 1880.

The event of the week was the arrival in Rosario on Sunday of Gen. Roca. There was not much enthusiasm, except what was manufactured by the authorities. He was escorted to his hotel by his political friends, very quietly indeed, and there was very little to indicate that we had amongst us no less a person than a candidate for the presidency. He was treated to a grand banquet, and lots of speeches were made on the occasion, but there was no popular demonstration of any kind. The Governor of this Province and his Minister, as well as the Minister of the Cordoba Government, had been invited, but all excused themselves. It seems to me that General Roca has made a lamentable mistake in trusting his success as a candidate solely to the official power of the governors of provinces. Had he appealed to the people I think he would get a majority, a legitimate majority. I am pretty certain, as far as Santa Fe is concerned, if the opposition here were allowed to vote with entire liberty (which, of course, they will not be allowed to do) General Roca would get a large majority; and I dare say it is the same in several other provinces. It appears to me, therefore, a suicidal and unpatriotic, as well as an unnecessary policy, to seek to obtain an election by the forced abstention of all opposition. I rather admire General Roca, and if he is to be President, I should like him to attain that high position by the free votes of his countrymen, which, I believe, he would, if official coersion could be entirely eliminated, and not owe it to the culpable favor of governors of provinces.

THE BANQUET.

The pit of the fine large Theatre Olimpo was boarded over, making a clear space in which tables for five hundred people might have been set. One with a hundred covers occupied the centre of the arear Eighty-one persons sat down, all the employees of Government, a few military men and half a score of foreigners amongst whom there was one Englishman. The Gefe Politico, Mr Bayo, sat at the left of the General, and at his right hand was Dr. Arias, an old friend and collegechum, and President of the Boquista club in Rosario. The General was in mufti, as was also Col. Nelson; the rest of the military men were in undress uniforms. The spread was magnificent, and lots of attendants, but I dread to recall to memory the proportion of the eighty one guests who carried the good things to their mouth with their knifes. As for that, however, the gallant hero of Santa Rosa set them an example. But in republican countries we are not to be fastidious.

The General has aged considerably since I saw him last. I was surprised to see him so bald; but he still retains that expression of 'bonhomie' which makes his face agreeable to look at. I was sorry for his sake to witness the apathy of the community generally. The theatre holds one thousand five hundred people, and at no time of the evening was there more than a hundred and fifty persons as lookers on in the boxes; of these a large proportion were boys. Ten ladies graced the proceedings. The weather, however, was boisterous and rainy. I said to myself, were Roca not the cuddled candidate of our all omnipotent authorities, it would have been easy to have filled the theatre with his friends. As it was, it was dreary to see the edifice so empty; no one in the corridors, in the passages, nor even at the doors. It seemed to me that the General must have felt the neglect keenly. He was repaid, however, by the enthusiasm of the eighty one, when once the speeches were inaugurated. Mr. Arias gave the toast of the evening, in a moderate quiet little speech. He spoke of General Roca's services to the country in the Paraguayan war, in the Entre Rios rebellion, in the revolution of 1874, and his Indian campaigns, and suggested that he was the best man in the Republic for the high office of Chief Magistrate. When the General rose an incident took place that might be interpreted as either enthusiasm or obsequiousness; the eighty one all rose at the same time. Of course, the General requested them to be seated, which was done quickly enough by those whose position in society enabled them to understand the unseemliness of this servile act, but who could not help following the example of others.

The speech of General Roca, in returning thanks, was not in good taste. After thanking his old schoolfellow, Dr. Arias, he proceeded immediately to say that his triumph was secure; that their enemies would be defeated everywhere. I was particularly struck with this phrase. He did not say opponents or political enemies, but bluntly 'nuestros enemigos.' This was very bad taste; but the General is no orator, and must be overlooked in his speeches. After expressing his confidence in his election and promising to be a good boy at the 'casa Rosada,' he went on to say that in all the tide of their triumph there was one serious obstacle to overcome—that was the existence in one of the Provinces of the Argentine Republic of an unprincipled and despotic Governor, who was capable of any atrocity. The Eighty-one shouted out their applause at this allusion to Tejedor. The General continued in a strain of fierce invective against the Governor of B. Ayres, which showed more than political animosity. He compared him with the Bourbons of France who never forgot or ever learned anything; and as one who lived isolated and hated, surrounded by his policemen. I was not aware until Sunday night how bitter must be the animosity of our two candidates for the presidency. General Roca, with inimitable policy, concluded by toasting the "most patriotic man in Santa Fe," Don Servando Bayo, who was so astonished that he jumped up in his chair, and then sank down again with wonder and delight depicted in his good-natured face. There were numbers of speeches made during the evening, but as they all revolved in the same narrow orbit, adulation of the future President, their sameness places them outside of the obligatory duties of a penny-a-liner.

W.P.

THE QUIET RAMBLES OF A YOUNG NATURALIST.

(No. 3)

Beyond conception dreary is the Port of Concepcion del Uruguay; in fact what strikes one is the extreme solitariness especially of the upper part of this river: where a town does occur it seems the residence of almost primeval man: we might be another exploring party led by the calm, determined and courageous Columbus. Immediately on leaving Uruguay at 8 a.m. awnings are spread over the whole ship in anticipation of a hot day, which was amply verified. We had to cross a nasty bar to enter the main channel and all the passengers were driven forward like sheep to equalize the weight: we fortunately succeeded in our attempt, but by our side lay the wreck of a large brigantine not so successful. Ahead lies an extensive reach three-quarters of a mile in breadth, forming the main channel: the Banda Oriental coast presents nothing but sand dunes covered with scanty brushwood; then a succession of bluffs and more wrecks, in fact our path is strewn with these evidences of misadventure. The characteristic of the vegitation on the Entre Riano side now changes and vast montes succeed one another enclosing in their bosoms the ranchos of the woodcutters.

At 9 a.m. we reached Paysandu, the most busy, thriving place on our route, built on sand, backed up by gently undulating eminences; the low shore facilitating commerce: sailing and steam vessels, boats, flats for cargo, large hotel, two churches, monastery, the remains of the old dismantled fort shelled by the Brazilians in 1861, and two moles crowd upon the view and immediately we are again boarded by the Montevidean blue stripes. Ten miles above Paysandu the river opens out into a broad belt of water clear as a mirror, in which the sky, distant foliage and hills are brilliantly reflected; the air changes and tropical fragance and balminess, with verdure more vivid, seem to spring up magically around us. Palms now form the characteristic vegetation of the Entre Riano side; every eminence is crowned with them; grove succeeds grove, nay rather forest forest, but always on high ground: the eye naturally turns to the sister coast but in vain, not a single palm is there visible, bold rugged crags there are, through whose bodies the stream of age has eaten its way and strewn its passage with the debris; abrupt bluffs which are covered with verdure and cattle to the very edge: this it is gives vivacity to the picture, for, however, beautiful nature may be in herself she is but a cold mistress and fails to engage the sympathy of man without evidence of the work of man. The river Uruguay is very badly buoyed through out and consequently there is great loss of shipping; in time of war, it would be quite impossible for an enemy to ascend it, when at all low; the pilot has to be every moment watchful and carries us from side to side, threading daintily through the most intricate of channels, with great boulders and spits of sand continually threatening destruction. At Gualeguay where the river has a breadth of about half a mile, are planted several Saladeros, which seem to be hard at work; and whether the palms are scared by the scent of blood, or refuse to witness the daily hecatomb, certain it is they here suddenly vanish from the scene. About twenty miles above the city rises the highest and boldest mass on the Banda Oriental coast, resembling a huge fortress with its earthworks; so sharp and clear is it projected against the sky, that I could not imagine the bold headland of upwards of one hundred feet to be other than the labour of man: but its architecture was not human: two advanced guards in the shape of two circular islands, apparently exactly equal in size and shape, and hence styled Las dos Hermanas, flank this bold promontory, and are likewise remarkable as rising steeply out of the water and covered by intensely green verdure to the river's edge; a smiling and yet bold picture. Cliffs succeed cliffs until at length in front of a sheep station on the Montevidean side, a bold, jagged and black ledge of boulders (Coralitos), seem as we advance, to stretch completely across the stream and thus bar our further passage: on this reef lie the torn and twisted remains of a steamer: we hold our breath as with a quick turn and a dart through the seething water our clever steersman pilots us through dangers greater than ever were Scylla or Charybdis and leaves us at leisure to view the prosperous cattle farms which now line our approach to Concordia.

At length, about 5 p.m., after a passage of thirty-one hours from B. Ayres, we arrive at the Buda-Pesth termination of our journey, Concordia lying on the right or Entre-Riano bank and Salto just opposite on the left or Banda Oriental coast: for one hundred and forty leagues higher, where the river washes the shores of Uruguay, Brazil and the Argentine Republic, the towns are likewise found in correlative pairs, they hunt in couples, and their quarry—smuggling. Along a ricketty landing place and through the midst of exorbitant boatmen and noisy peons we reach 'terra firma' in search of an hotel. Our progress was arrested by the Custom House officials; a large entomological case was viewed with suspicion and on opening it, 'O! I see' said the wise man of the party, 'Dentistry,' and so without having made my apprenticeship to Newberry, I was dubbed 'Dentist' to my great amusement. Now it so happened that our arrival took place in the midst of a week of fetes decreed on account of the opening of a local Industrial Exhibition, and thousand of people had flocked into the city from Corrientes, B. Oriental and Brazil. The whole town was busy amidst bunting, illumination and fireworks holiday making, so engaging a three-horse coach, the three being about equivalent to one good English, we told the smiling Entre Riano Jehu to drive us first to one and then to the other of the two hotels of which this town of 6,000 inhabitants boasts—the Hotel Otaño, and the hotel Paris—of the former I would speak thus; a more unwholesome den, a more uncivil landlord or taller charges, I never met with; so travellers! beware of the hotel Otaño!

Every bed, nook and corner in the hotels as in private houses was occupied, but after much ado, they agreed to put up two bare catres in the comedor, so we credulously believed we had secured something mighty advantageous. Our next fight was for dinner, but it was a regular scramble amongst hundreds pressing forward with the same object. The waiters were bewildered and not less so the guests, and what with the shouting, hurrahing and ribald jokes, we had to be satisfied with a minimum of greasy, oily, rancid fodder and detestable wine. The dining-room orgies were kept up till ten o'clock and rose to a pandemonium when rouge-et-noir commenced in the adjoining billiardroom. To escape the noise, heat and confusion we betook ourselves to the Plaza, which was crowded with an exceedingly well-dressed and courteous throng. In the centre of the fine public square stands an elevated Corinthian column surmounted by a life-size figure of Liberty, and the only remark I would make about this column is that the architect has forgotten to mount it on a suitable pedestal and it thus bears the appearance of a man in short trowsers. The whole Plaza was a blaze of light in which stood out with peculiar brilliancy the Exhibition Building, the central column and the Church, the last named being illuminated with Pneumatic gas. Two excellent military brass bands discoursed music, and crowds of gay uniforms fluttered amidst the gauzy textures of the fair. We longed for an ice to cool our parched throats and entered the only confiteria of any pretensioons; it appears they had ordered the solid water from Buenos Aires but on the journey thither it had taken it into its head to resume its natural condition.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The first news in town yesterday was that Rossi was off to Europe in the Nord America, without any leave-taking or 'sweet sorrow' fuss. We hope he will have a pleasant voyage home. It is unlikely that the great actor will ever pay the Plate another visit: he had not the houses he ought to have had, and the Shakesperian revival in Buenos Ayres has evidently collapsed for some time to come. More's the pity. A community whose intellectual fare is Shakespeare, is far more moral and healthy than one that feeds on zarzuela, opera bouffe and the civilizing 'can-can furioso.' Alas and alack!

Our Rosario correspondent describes General Roca's reception there as belonging to the frigid rather than the torrid electioneering zone. His brother in arms, ex-President Sarmiento, has set all the political circles at boiling pitch by the announcement that he 'has four Provincial Governors in his pocket and another by the ear.' Nobody seems to know as yet who they are, but the impression is general that a change, and a great one, has come o'er the spirit of the dream of the bewildered contending political parties. It might be more satisfactory if the aged statesman's 'bon mot,' which was in all mouths yesterday, had reference to the votes of the people rather than of the Governors of the provinces in question, but such is our political system, and, doubtless, the General Brown Club will yet succeed in reforming it.

We were agreeably surprised yesterday morning by a visit from Mr. Merlin, the famous conjuror, who has just returned from a highly successful tour through the provinces and to Asuncion. Large audiences favoured him everywhere, but in Asuncion his admirers were so numerous that the theatre was in danger of bursting. Mr. M. intends now to rest from his labours and, in a month or so, when the great heat has passed, will pay Rosario a professional visit, and subsequently go to Brazil.

A kind subscriber in Rosario sends us the following mems. anent General Roca's reception there:—

"General Roca's reception here last Sunday was in every respect what could be expected from a cosmopolitan city. He walked from the mole to the Hotel Universal, enveloped in friends. Mrs. Roca and children drove direct to 145 Santa Fe, where they had breakfast, rejoining the General in the afternoon, after the people had dispersed. In the evening he attended the banquet at the Olimpo Theatre, where some 130 persons were waiting. The best of humour reigned throughout. On Monday, at 6 p.m., the General and suite left the C.A.R. Station per special, for Cordoba. At Cañada de Gomez Station they were received by the Justice of the Peace, and partook of some dinner, leaving at 9.45 p.m. On arrival at Cordoba he was received by about 8,000 persons."—A Subscriber.

The Minister of War and Colonels Guerrico and Viejobueno went to Zarate on Sunday to inspect the Arsenal there.

The yellow fever scare last month cost the Municipality 17,000$ m/c., in sundry expenses connected with the premature demise of the late Mr Thomas Conde. It cost the timid section of the public a far larger sum in fright, physic, disinfectants, country-house hunting etc. etc.

We are glad to see that the Provincial Government has taken the ostrich of our pampas under its wing at last, just in time to save the noble bird from extermination. At the request of the Provincial Minister, the War Office has ordered the National troops on the frontiers to use every effort to put down 'bolearing,' but the Minister of War has advised the Provincial authorities to supplement this with other vigorous measures, or the abuse cannot be effectually put down.

The news from Peru shows that the voice of the people of that country 'is still for war', and it is possible that Chile has yet a stiff job before her. Dictator Pierola has called to arms every man in Peru, and those that won't fight must pay to the tune of 50 soles per month while the war lasts. The new ruler of Peru seems to like 'hot water': The Luxor business not being enough for him, he has forcibly taken the Bolivian Plenipotentiary and several Peruvian and Bolivian officers from on board a British steamer in Callao.

The Immigration year has begun well. The La France has arrived with 500 new wheat-growers. 'Vive La France!'

There is a good deal of chaff going on between the newspapers on both political sides about the volunteer review on Tuesday. The estimates as to the number of citizen warriors present on the occasion vary from 200 to 1500.

We are glad to hear that Don Eugenio Cambaceres has recovered from his recent illness; he has arrived in town from his estancia.

The Telfener, No! the Tucuman Railway is making gallant progress. It gave 47,000 pats receipts last month, an excess of 11,000 pats over the same month last year.

We received yesterday the programme of a new colleague. El Investigador, which will make its debut on the 15th inst. Our new contemporary will be something in the style of Notes and Queries, a 'potpourri' of all extraordinary and uncommon things, and we shall not be surprised if it prove a success.

We are informed by a musical subscriber that the Italian opera company which recently performed in Rosario made a clear profit of over $100,000 m/c in that city, but they are now hard at work losing it in the City of Doctors, where the people are wretched judges of music, and hardly know the difference between La Traviata and a Christmas pantomime. The company intend going to Tucuman, the Governor of which province has offered to pay their railway fare and give them the use of the theatre free. It is the first time the Tucumanos have ever had an Italian opera company in their city, and it is safe to predict that the event will produce a more than ordinary ebullition of 'entusiasmo frenetico.'

The papers report a serious scuffle at the Resistencia Colony in the Chaco, resulting in four Indians killed and a Commissary, a sergeant and a soldier badly wounded.

An old negress died in the Asilo de Mendigos yesterday at the ripe age of 102.

Baron Gravenegg, the new Austrian Minister here, has gone to Montevideo to present his credentials in the same capacity to Colonel Latorre.

The Franco-German war was near being renewed last week at Montevideo by the crews of the French and German war vessels now in that port. To avoid a scrimmage, the respective commanders of the vessels have arranged that their crews shall not get leave to go on shore on the same day, but take turn about.

Two piano-teachers are reported to have fought a duel in Chile lately. The weapons were pianos, and both were to play till they dropped. One of them, after playing 20 hours, fell dead—beaten from his stool, and, after a few victorious demi-semi quavers, his opponent followed suit. Both were in bed dangerously ill for a week after the fight.

The Pope's Nuncio, Monsignor di Pietro, left yestrrday for Rio Janeyro.

The Chilian papers are discussing the terms of peace to be dictated to Peru, which, after all, looks like 'counting chickens before they are hatched.' The Ferro Carril suggests that Chilian territory should be extended to the 23d parallel of South Latitude; but this modest proposal gave rise to a protest which has been signed by everybody who is anybody in Santiago, to the effect that the terms proposed are not up to the mark, and that 'nobody can tell what part 'heroic Chile' may yet be called to play in the destinies of this Continent.' The hint conveyed in the last phrase is broad enough.

THE GENERAL BROWN CLUB.

This young but deserving political institution is fast becoming a power in the land. True to the spirited programme which it lately issued, it has entered the political arena and proclaimed the following gentlemen as its candidates for seats in the National Chamber of Deputies. The names are all those of 'good men and true,' who will, if elected, faithfully carry out the high trust reposed in them. The battle of Reform is a hard one to win (see how many years' hard fighting it cost at home), as hard, perhaps, in this country as in any other; but the sympathies of really free peoples are ever with the reformer, and, such being the case, victory cannot be doubtful in the long run. We need hardly tell the members of the General Brown Club that the Standard wishes every success to their political programme.

The last meeting of the Club was held on the 5th inst., and after some earnest discussion the following list of candidates at the coming election of National Deputies was agreed to:—

For four years—
Doctor D. Felix Frias
" Saturnino Unzue
" Luis Saenz Peña
" Antonio E. Malaver
" Lucio Vicente Lopez
" Pedro Goyena
" Ventura Martinez
" Juan Dillon (padre)
" Santiago Luro
" Eduardo Madero
" Juan Cruz Varela
" Carlos A. Davis.

For two years—
Doctor D. Manuel A. Ocampo
" Manuel Arauz.

Substitutes were also named, and the Election Committee of the Club was instructed to call on them in case any of the gentlemen named refused to stand.

The resignation as candidate for Congress of Mr. Charles A. Davis, the energetic Secretary of the Club, was handed in, the reason assigned being his conviction that he will be able to serve the Club better as Secretary than in Congress. Dr. Dn. Emilio Lamarca was chosen by acclamation to succeed Mr. Davis as candidate for Congress.

There was more movement in gold to-day, consequent on the large Exchange transactions of yesterday, although the bulk of yesterday's Exchange business was done in paper. Gold opened and closed at 31.85 for cash and 90 for end of month. The sales of the day amounted to 450,890 pats.

Cedulas improved somewhat and ruled firm at 82; for the end of January they were done at 81⅞ cash. Cash Cedulas ruled dearer than on time; stock wanted for amortization purposes.

Respecting Messrs. Baring Bros.' telegram to Dr. Plaza, giving the Riestra Bonds at 90½, there is much comment. It must be remembered, however, that this quotation is ex coupon, which shows that the stock has not fallen.

Exchange closed to-day for Orenoque at yesterday's rates. The amount done for the mails is estimated at five millions of francs and £100,000 sterling—the largest Exchange transactions for many years in this market. The Italian Bank alone took two millions francs, and all the other banks also took freely. The demand for small bills was very large. We mentioned one bank which drew 75 bills of exchange to-day; we heard of another that up to last night drew 9, and for the Pollinini mail the Nord America sailed yesterday, the Italian Bank did a very large business but only drew at 5.20 and 49½, very low bank rates.

The heat on 'Change this morning was very excessive, and the brokers felt disinclined at noon to form ring. In fact Hammer and Peltzer's new beer was far more discussed than gold, until the weather cooled somewhat. All brokers drink this new beer, as the brewer was formerly a broker, and has immense Bolsa relations. At 2 o'clock the weather became cool and looked so like a storm that it was thought the steamers would not be able to get away. Some were detained owing to confusion about cargo in lighters going to wrong steamers.

To-day there was a secret session of the Provincial Senate, and many said the meeting was about the long pending question of Bank Directors.

The wheat and maize tables published in last night's Nacional were the talk of Change. They will be found in another column.

The Bolsa price current was out to-day, and prices for last fortnight show no fluctuation.

The magnificent new steel steamer the Buenos Ayrean entered Montevideo this morning, with Bordeaux dates to 14th December, being one day later than those by Cotopaxi, which steamer called at all the ports, and the Buenos-Ayrean came direct; she brings cargo for Montevideo and this port, and her mails will be up in the morning. The Scandinavian, of same line, will clear to-morrow. The Lucerne, which left Montevideo on 9th Dec., arrived at Antwerp on 6th January—28 days good run. Commodore McLean, who took us over sea and land, and wound up the voyage in Paris, is Commander of the Buenos Ayrean the latest addition to the Allan fleet, and the largest carrier that has ever entered this port.

Dr Stewart, of Paraguay, was warmly welcomed on 'Change; he reports things improving in Paraguay, the orange crop good and not destroyed by locusts as reported, and the tobacco crop also good. The Cibils and Saginer's Bank scheme has been thrown out by the Legislature; the country is in the enjoyment of profound pease, and during the year 1879 over 300,000 head of cattle passed over from Corrientes to Paraguay on the Upper Parana, where the estancia lands in that part of Paraguay are now in great demand and worth from 1,000 to 1,500 pats per square league.

Mr Ayr has arrived up from the South, having sold 22 Wood's machines and 2 steam threshers for Messrs T Drysdale & Co. Mr Ayr gives a happy description of the Olavarria Colony: its wheat is magnificent, whilst Azul wheat is poor; wheat from 9 to 16 inches high. All the Russian and Tandil wheat is excellent, and all that grows on the upland. The cottages of the Russians are patterns of cleanliness, and Mr Ayr says that many of them are far better fitted up than our office.

The Italian str. Nord America left crowded with passengers, over 250, and had to shut off cargo, being unable to take all that was offering. Rather a good sign.

To-day the plaza for the tariff granted to merchants by Dr Plaza expires and bales going forward now come under the new valuation, which makes a serious difference to the shippers, as we have already stated.

The gold sales were:—
For cash 18,890 31.85
For Jan. 10th 5,000 31.85
For Jan. 31st 371,000 31.90-80-90
Feb. 29th 58,000 32.-31.95-32
Sales 452,890.

Cedulas—
For cash A 16,400 at 82
For Jan. 31st 55,000 81⅞
For March 31st 90,000 81½

Treasury Bonds—
For cash 3,900 at 75½

National Bank Shares—
For cash 33 shares at 60½
For Jan. 31st 550 shares 60⅝-¾-⅝

The rain at afterhours cooled everything and spread consternation in shipping circles. The news from the Boca was simply disastrous, to-day being the last day to export bales under the old tariff. All along the river banks bales were piled up to be ready for the lighters, but the river ran down so low that people could almost walk across to the opposite bank, and down came the rain in torrents, making washed wool of thousands of bales. The excitement was at its height on 'Change when Mr Hoevel entered and told the truly sad story.

Messrs Tomkinson and Dungey were the busiest people on 'Change to-day, having chartered 4 vessels for their clients.—

German brig Fido to load hay for Pernambuco at 2⅞ pats per bale.

Italian barque Ida to load tallow in San Nicolas, orders, 30s/.

German brig Hedwig to load bales at San Nicolas for Antwerp, 20s/.

French brig Loetitia to load hay at Campana for Brazil at 3 pats.

To-day the Government exchange business was fully known to the market; it was on the terms and for amount already stated.

Dn. Jose B. Sala was enveloped in friends when he entered the Bolsa, and every one congratuated him on his speedy recovery.

Exchange on Rio 60 contos passed at 10,100—650.

Gold at five o'clock sold at 31.85, 10,000 patacons, and another lot, 10,000 patacons, at 31.82½

The Municipal Bondholders ask what about their coupons, and can it be possible Mr. Balbin has forgotten the matter.

There was a good deal said on 'Change about New York hide news, but we could see no telegrams; the news is, we understand, that hides there dropped somewhat and since recovered.

The sale of all the potro hides from the Mocoreta saladero up to March reported at 20 rls. here.

The sale of a lot of tallow in bordalesas at 12⅝ rls. also reported here.

Telegrams from Liverpool were looked for to-day, as the sheepskin auction came off yesterday; none up to 5 o'clock received. The only telegraphing news on 'Change we give in another column.

So many new exchange offices are opening in the city that the business must evidently be most remunerative, as rents have to be paid in advance usually for all second class concerns. We notice that in some of the streets they are opening now what the Americans call "Bucket Shops". If people would but read the American papers they would know how dangerous these concerns are, sweeping off frequently even the savings of the women who are tempted to invest in such concerns. In Chicago, according to last advices, they have had a terrible smash up. The Tribune says:—men women and boys dabbled in the grain speculations and have been ruined by the "Bucket Shops"; we want South Sea bubbles and Tulip growing to complete our speculative ring.

Flour for Queen Victoria is the newest flour news from the U. States. A new brand has just been introduced, and a cable order received in New York from Windsor Castle ordering 25 barrels of the new brand for the Queen's household; the cost of the flour is 9 pats per barrel.

Forty new seats on the New York Stock Exchange have been offered to the public; price of each seat 1,000 pats gold. Why not try the same plan in our Bolsa?

The creditors of Don A C Acebal are notified to send in their claims at once to the Syndico, Mr Edward Halbach.

Yesterday the Courts reopened and we heard of much business before the Tribunal de Comercio, as protested bills cannot be executed in vacation. Dr Caravallo, Juez de Paz of Flores, is named Secretary to Judge Bustos.

The Allan Line steamer Scandinavian, Capt Hugh Wylie, takes her departure to-morrow for Havre with the following splendid cargo.

Rates 35 fcs and 10 o/o for bales, and 45 fcs and 10 o/o for salted hides.

1000 bags wheat
84 bales tobacco
500 bags animal charcoal
250 bags dried blood
130 dry hides
260 bales wool

At Montevideo—
1050 bales wool
6000 salted hides

Mr Durand's excellent wool circular for the Orenoque again shows the trade currents of this country. We find that our shipments of wool to Havre up to 31st Dec., 1879, show a falling off of 4,000 bales on the previous year, whilst a new port, through the energy of Mr Woodgate, has sprung up; 1,661 bales this season to Dunkerque against nil last year. Belgium has already taken this season 5,600 bales more than this time last season, and England has taken nearly 100 per cent more bales than in 1878. Germany also shows nearly the same percentage of increase, and the United States 600 bales against nil last season. Our wool export shows 57,061 bales shipped up to 31st Dec., 1879, against 50,536 bales same time last year, which proves that we are ahead of last season not only in the Plazas but on board the steamers and the lighters.

The meeting of National Bank shareholders is called for 26th inst., and already there is much interest betrayed in the names of the new Directors. We hear that it is probable this year the bank will arrange credits in Europe to facilitate exchange operations.

The new river steamer Cosmos is expected out this month; she is built especially for the trade for the Compañia Fluvial, Uruguay. We wonder when they will build new steamers on the same scale of magnificence for New Haven and Dieppe, or St. Catherine's Dock and Antwerp.

Our advices from Mendoza are not to say favorable about the wheat crop, as the letters say that an insect is destroying the crop. A gentleman from Rosario informs us that the loss or deficit to the province of Sta. Fe by the short wheat crop this year is at least 3 millions Bolivianos. In another column we publish the splendid Nacional table of our wheat crop in this province; we know who it was got that table made up and published.

Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup

A Merchant having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home, and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favour of Homœopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse, and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some dom[illegible] duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother.

Base para la venta 600,000 pesos m/c.

Da de renta $4,000 mensuales

No se ha querido contratarla por $5000

VENTA AD-CORPUS.

El Miercoles 14 de Enero, a las 4 de la tarde verdere la magnifica casa alta y baja arriba espresada, local inmejorable, donde nadie vende, es la mejor cuadra de la calle Victoria. Recientemente se han construido los grandiosos edificios de los señores Moujan, Oliveira y Costa, y se esta construyendo el del Señor Anchorena. El terreno de dicha casa se compone del modo siguiente: 9 varas de frente por 68½ de fondo con los siguientes martillos a favor de la casa a las 6 varas de la calle ensancha ¾, a las 38 ensancha 2½ varas, y a las 50 ensancha 8½ varas asi es que viene a tener a esta altura 17½ varas de frente por 68½ de fondo y a mas un gran corralon con comunicacion en la misma casa y con salida a la calle Lima 74, que actualmente lo alquila el Dr Luro. La casa tiene como se dice arriba 22 habitaciones altos y bajas, 2 grandes salones y un almacen de 18 varas y el dicho corralon a la calle Lima. Nos parece demas esplicar el merito de dicha casa, pues propiedades como esta la mejor recomendacion es su localidad. La base para la venta no puede ser mas baja, pues solo el terreno lo vale. Como decimos mas arriba esta casa esta alquilada actualmente por 4000 ps. pero hay interesados en pagar 6000 con contrata, pero el dueño no ha querido por no obligar al comprador.
